

21ST CENTURY CIVIC INFRASTRUCTURE: --- UNDER CONSTRUCTION

On April 27th Google. org and The Aspen Institute Forum on Community Solutions are co-hosting a reception from 5:30 – 7:00 p.m., at the IMPACT HUB at 901 Mission Street in San Francisco, to release the monograph, 21st Century Civic Infrastructure: Under Construction. This paper, commissioned by The Forum for Community Solutions and authored by Jill Blair and Malka Kopell, posits the need for a cross-sector conscious construction effort to create a civic infrastructure optimally suited to engage more people and increasingly diverse groups of people in civic and community life. Those in attendance will be among the first to receive a copy of the paper and will have an opportunity to hear from a forward-thinking leader about how he is beginning to invest in 21st century civic infrastructure and to what effect. I hope you will join us. If you intend to attend, you may RSVP by emailing jblair@jillblairconsulting.com

WHAT: Release of 21st Century Civic Infrastructure: Under Construction
Refreshments Served

WHEN: April 27, 2015 – 5:30 – 7:00 p.m.

WHERE: IMPACT HUB
901 Mission Street
San Francisco